PRE-ORDER ANNOUNCEMENTS - SUMMER 2022

GUARANTEED PRE-ORDER DUE DATE: WEDNESDAY AUGUST 17TH 2022

June 2022

Dear Fellow Model Railroader,

Welcome to the Summer 2022 edition of the Atlas HO & N Scale Monthly Catalog (ASMC). The ASMC is the basis of the distinctive Atlas Guaranteed Pre-Order system. Before the Research & Development department gives the final go ahead for production, Atlas announces to its customers the products we are preparing to make. This announcement comes in the form of the ASMC that provides our customers with the opportunity to arrange a guaranteed pre-order if placed by the given deadline. If possible, Atlas will try to fill orders placed after the given "due date", but these can not be guaranteed.

The Summer 2022 HO & N Scale ASMC includes announcements of the N scale Classic RS-3 and Master B23-7 locomotives, along with Logging Flat Cars and Dry-Flo Covered Hoppers. In HO, we're excited to announce our brand new MP-36 Locomotives and Metra Passenger Cars. There are plenty more rolling stock models with all new paint schemes in both scales being offered. Among the rolling stock announcements are the N & HO Master 20,700 Gallon Tank Cars, Precision Design Box Cars, and last but not least, NE-6 Cabooses, round out the offerings. All these items can be found on our website, shop.atlasrr.com.

While on the website, make sure to check out the 'New Arrivals' pages to see what has recently hit Atlas Dealers' shelves or the 'In-Stock' pages to see what is still available in the Atlas Warehouse. We have plenty of exciting arrivals headed to retailers this summer season - just what you need to keep you busy while you beat the heat!

Need to do some track work? The 148-page Atlas All Scales Track & Accessories Catalog is just the resource you need! We also offer a full line of instructional guides if you're looking to start fresh with a brand new layout! For more information and a complete listing of our books, check out our website or inquire at your local hobby shop. For assistance finding an Atlas Authorized Dealer near you, check out our Dealer locator at <https://shop.atlasrr.com/storelocator.aspx>.

Thank you for your interest and enthusiasm in the exceptional multi-scale product offerings created by Atlas Model Railroad Company.

Happy Summer Railroading,

Drew Postle,
Atlas Sales Manager

Well over 1,300 RS-3 road-switcher locomotives were built by ALCO between 1950 and 1956. It can be considered one of the most successful four-axle diesel road-switchers ever produced by the builder. These 1,600hp locomotives were powered by an ALCO 244 V-12 engine which was complimented by rugged GE electrical components. The RS-3 was truly a versatile locomotive. It could be found in virtually every type of service from passenger and commuter runs to heavy-haul and local freight assignments. Original owners of the RS-3 tended to be in the eastern and central regions of the US (with heavier concentrations in the northeast and southeast).

General Electric's "Dash 7" locomotive line was introduced as a replacement for the older "Universal-Series" of the 60s and early 70s. "Dash 7" series improvements included increased fuel efficiency, tractive effort and reliability. The B23-7 was a direct replacement for the 2,250HP U23B model. The first units were produced for Conrail in September, 1977 (ironically, 3 months after the last U23B was delivered to Conrail). Production continued through 1984, with a total of 535 units built. Conrail was the largest purchaser of the model, with a total fleet of 141 units.

Features:

- Directional lighting
  - Golden-white LEDs
  - Dual brass flywheels
  - Low-friction mechanism
  - Accurate painting and lettering
  - Factory-installed AccuMate® magnetic knuckle couplers
- AccuMate® couplers are made under license from AccuRail, Inc.

§ Alternate history paint scheme

The railroads have long played a vital role to the logging industry. One of the key aspects is the ability of the railroads to carry large amounts of logs out of the forest to the mill using flat cars, many with specially designed side stakes to hold the logs in place on longer mainline trains. The 45' Logging Flat is based off of a Milwaukee Road prototype that features unique side stakes in sets of two at each end, with inward slots on the cars so smaller pieces of bark and timbers can pass through without causing damage to the car. Many railroads owned this type of car for service to and from the forest to the mill.

The 3500 Cubic Foot Dry-Flo Covered Hopper was a commodity hauling backbone for over 40 years. In 1959, General American started producing Dry-Flo covered hoppers in response to customer demands for larger hoppers capable of handling bulk commodities. Covered hopper innovations during the 1950s proved valuable to shippers; they wanted covered hoppers that could handle larger quantities of specialized commodities such as oats and malt. These models were designed to match the prototype - down to the last detail! Engineered from prototype blueprints, the N Scale Dry-Flo will feature an accurate attention to both body and paint detail as you've come to expect from Atlas!

- Separate Brake Detail
- Chemically Etched Brake Platform
- Accurately Painted/Printed

ATLAS MASTER® N 20,700 GALLON TANK CAR

Product Info: https://shop.atlasrr.com/d-680-summer-2022-n-scale-pre-orders.aspx

ESTIMATED ARRIVAL: 2nd Quarter 2023 Arrival

Table with columns: ORDER IN PIECES, ITEM, ROAD NAME, ROAD #, COLOR, MSRP/UNIT. Includes sections for NEW PAINT SCHEMES and NEW ROAD NUMBERS.

The 20,700 gallon tank car was introduced in the mid-sixties by General American Transportation Corporation, more commonly known simply as GATX. The design is a general-purpose, non-insulated, non-pressure tank car. The Atlas model recreates two major saddle variations (Type 10 and Type 20) and two top platform variations (one- and two-piece). The more common products carried in this tank car were tallow, animal fat, fuel oil, diesel fuel, vegetable oil, soybean oil, fertilizers, lubricating oil, waste oil, and glycol.

Features:

- Detailed five section non-insulated body
Two saddle variations (Type 10 or 20)
Detailed top platform with two options (one- or two-piece)
Bottom outlet
Safety vent
Detailed brake gear and pipes
See-through end walks
Manway
Control housing
Stuffing box
Safety rails
Correct lettering to prototype cars

This Atlas N scale model is based upon a standard caboose design of the International Car Company of Kenton, Ohio that was used in the 1940s. It is typically associated with the New Haven Railroad but this body style was in fact used by other rail lines as well. The cabooses showed real longevity and were found in operation well into the diesel era.

Features:

- Ready-to-run
- Finely detailed end rails, smokestack and ladders
- Brake line detail
- Weighted chassis
- Friction-bearing or roller-bearing caboose trucks as appropriate
- Factory-equipped with AccuMate® couplers
- Accurate painting and printing
- Railroad specific features

The 3,600 horsepower MPI (Motive Power Industries) MP-36 locomotive is one type in a series of passenger locomotives produced in the company's MPXpress lineup. While there have been numerous variations produced, this new Atlas model represents the most common, the MP36PH-3C. This variation includes a separately powered Head-end Power (HEP) system which alleviates the need for high prime mover RPM to power the passenger cars' lighting and electrical systems.

Features:

- Golden-white LEDs
- Realistic die-cast underframe
- Five-pole skewed armature motor with dual flywheels for optimum performance at all speeds
- Realistic lighting effects including ditch lights and in-cab light
- Metal knuckle couplers
- Detailed cab interior
- Separately-installed scale windshield wipers, metal grab irons and fine scale handrails
- Coupler cut levers
- Multiple unit hoses and trainline hoses
- Recommended 22" radius with Atlas passenger cars

Built specifically for Metra by the Japanese rail car builder Nippon Sharyo, the TYPE 8500 Cab Car and TYPE 6000 Trailers were designed with additional safety features, comfort, and accessibility in mind to help modernize Metra's aging commuter car fleet. Metra took delivery of the TYPE 8500 and 6000 from 2002 to 2008. Metra has 200 of each the TYPE 8500 and TYPE 6000 in its fleet. Cal Train and Virginia Railway Express also ordered variations of the TYPE 8500 and 6000 after seeing its success with Metra. These modern Bi-Levels are a staple of Chicago railroading and will continue to haul commuters to their destinations around Chicago for years to come.

Features:

- Designed from prototype drawings with the cooperation of Metra
- Illuminated directional LED headlight, ditchlights, and red marker lights
- Interior includes seat details and LED illumination
- 21-pin plug for optional DCC operation
- Provision for mounting a speaker
- Separately applied air horn, antenna, lift lugs, and diaphragms
- Free-rolling metal wheels
- Equipped with metal couplers
- Recommend 22" minimum radius

First built for Union Pacific in the late 1980's by General Electric, the DASH 8-40C diesel locomotives were identified by an enlarged exhaust stack and the mounting of the dynamic brake grids in a square-like unit behind the cab, which housed an enlarged equipment blower fan. These six-axle, 4,000 hp engines are still in service today in North America.

Features:

- Now with Ditch lights
- Realistic die-cast underframe
- Factory-equipped with AccuMate® knuckle couplers
- Coupler pocket designed to accept AccuMate® Proto-couplers
- Highly detailed coupler cut bars, Multiple unit hoses and trainline hoses
- Five-pole skewed armature motor with dual flywheels for optimum performance at all speeds
- Separately-installed scale windshield wipers, metal grab irons and fine scale handrails
- Directional lighting
- Painted crew members
- Snowplow and piping on trucks
- Recommended minimum radius: 22"

Starting in the mid 1950's the AAR design was adapted to create a plug door, insulated boxcar. These cars could be used to carry food products or other perishable commodities where temperature control was important but where refrigeration was not required. Typically these cars had 8/8 panel riveted sides, a roughly eight foot door opening (there were some variations of an inch or two) straight side sills and overhanging diagonal panel roofs. These cars were built for roads nationwide and painted in fairly colorful paint schemes.

Features:

- Highly detailed, ready-to-run model with accurate painting and printing
- Late improved Dreadnaught ends
- Overhanging diagonal panel roof with or without roofwalk as per the prototype
- Straight-side sill body design
- 8/8 panel, riveted sides
- Highly detailed underframe
- Separately-applied ladders, grab irons and latch bars
- Blackened metal wheels
- AccuMate® couplers

In 1972, Berwick Forge & Fabricating, of Berwick, Pennsylvania began producing modern 50' sliding door box cars which featured their new corrugated non-terminating "sine-wave" ends. Initially sold to over 35 railroads across the nation, these box cars were an unfortunate casualty of the economic recession of the late 1970's and Berwick was forced to stop production in 1982. However, Berwick's 50' hauler found a place in railroad history through a strong second hand market that continues even today.

Features:

- Ready-to-run
- Full under body detail with brake rigging
- Overhanging X-panel roof
- Non-terminating sine wave ends
- Separately applied wire grabs
- Detailed end ladders and brake gear
- Accurate painting and printing
- Blackened metal wheels
- AccuMate® couplers

ESTIMATED ARRIVAL: 2nd Quarter 2023 Arrival

Table with columns: ORDER IN PIECES, ITEM, ROAD NAME, ROAD #, COLOR, MSRP / UNIT. Includes sections for Undecorated Type 10 and 20 Saddles, NEW PAINT SCHEMES, and NEW ROAD NUMBERS.

The 20,700 gallon tank car was introduced in the mid-sixties by General American Transportation Corporation, more commonly known simply as GATX. The design is a general-purpose, non-insulated, non-pressure tank car. This Atlas HO scale Master Level model recreates two major saddle variations (Type 10 and Type 20) and two top platform variations (one- and two-piece). The more common products carried in this tank car were tallow, animal fat, fuel oil, diesel fuel, vegetable oil, soybean oil, fertilizers, lubricating oil, waste oil, and glycol.

Features:

- Detailed five section non-insulated body
Two saddle variations (Type 10 or 20)
Detailed top platform with two options (one- or two-piece)
Bottom outlet, Safety vent, See-through end walks
Detailed brake gear and pipes
With A-end pipe stubs (where applicable)
Correct lettering to prototype cars

This Atlas HO scale Master Level model recreates a standard caboose design of the International Car Company of Kenton, Ohio that was used in the 1940s. It is typically associated with the New Haven Railroad but this body style was in fact used by other rail lines as well. The cabooses showed real longevity and were found in operation well into the diesel era.

Features:

- Ready-to-run
- Finely detailed end rails, smokestack and ladders
- Brake line detail
- Weighted chassis
- Friction-bearing or roller bearing caboose trucks
- Factory-equipped with AccuMate® couplers
- Accurate painting and printing
- Two different body styles:
  - New Haven Body Style: windows spaced closer to the cupola
  - Nickel Plate Body Style: windows spaced further from the cupola

AccuMate® couplers are made under license from AccuRail, Inc.
